VOLUME 2, ISSUE 18      OCTOBER 1, 2013

UNITED METHODIST MEN'S BLOOD DRIVE

Carter Blood Care needs 1,100 donations of blood a day to keep up with the demand of Blood needed in our community. One donation can save 3 lives! You truly can make a difference in the life of another.

The United Methodist Men have two blood drives each year. This year, their fall blood drive will be October 12, beginning at 8:30 a.m. They will have a Pancake Breakfast to give our donors strength starting at 7:00 a.m. If you are not able to donate blood, come and buy breakfast for $6.

Proceeds go to help United Methodist supported ministries.

This includes youth mission trips, 6 Stones, and other United Methodist Men's programs like hot dogs at Trunk-r-Treat.

This is a wonderful opportunity for you to begin a month focused on giving in response to God's gifts and sharing God's gifts with others.

If you are able to give, you can schedule an appointment at www.carterbloodcare.org

OCTOBER OF OPPORTUNITIES

October is here! Along with a little cooler weather, it is time for us to start our month of opportunities to give to our church and to our community.

Historically churches celebrated the act of giving their first acre of crops to the church at harvest time. People set aside their first for God. While the first crops are traditionally where Lord's Acre began, today by pledging, our church tradition give us a chance to give above our personal tithe. We give to thank God for all that he has given us. Euless First celebrates all that God has given us with festivities throughout the month of October.

Here is what October looks like:

- 10/6– Kick-off Sunday, enjoy a football cookie while checking out the items that will be in the Auction.
- 10/12– Blood Drive : Bring your appetite, bring your blood and bring your donation
- 10/13– Donation Drop off Day 9:30 to 11:00 a.m.
- 10/19– Lord's Acre Golf Tournament– Sign Up NOW Registration forms available by the Swor Parlor, you can also sponsor a hole!

- 10/20 Dedication Sunday Both Services
- 10/26– Lord's Acre 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Here is what to look for on October 26th:

- Lunch : Buddy Hamburgers $5.00 a plate, Hotdogs $2.00
- Casseroles : Here is what will be available for sale: Chicken Tetrazini, Frances Chicken, Mrs. Wright's Casserole, Chicken Spaghetti, Spicy Chicken Spaghetti, Reta's Enchiladas
- Bake Sale: Awesome desserts .25 cents and up

Items are still needed to be donated to the Silent and Live Auction if you can donate, please bring it to he church now.

ADOPT A SCHOOL

South Eules Elementary, Eules First's Adopt-A-School, is hosting a Love and Logic class for parents on October 5, 8:20 a.m.-3:20 p.m.

Love and Logic is a an approach to raising kids that provides loving support from parents while at the same time expecting kids to be respectful and responsible. Love and Logic is a philosophy founded by Jim Fay and Foster W. Cline, M.D., and based on the experience of a combined total of over 75 years working with and raising kids.

To support and assist South Eules we have been asked to provide volunteers to watch school age children during the class. If you are able to help, please let Pastor Beverly or Lynne Moffatt know.

For further information please contact Lynne Moffatt, Risk-Taking Mission & Service Chairman, at (817)571-2420 or

Rev. Beverly Springer in the church office.

Also please remember to volunteer to be a mentor for a student, at South Eules. To get started please complete a background check at www.hebisd.edu. Once you have received notification that you have passed the background check, contact Lynne Moffatt to set up a time to go to the school.

FOOD PANTRY NEWS

The Food Pantry had a wonderful turn out for our September workday at the Tarrant Area Food Bank. There were twelve volunteers on September 18. This included four first time volunteers! It turned out to be a messy day (very unusual), yet fun fellowship was had by everyone.

The next workday will be October 16, please consider joining us as we serve our community.

The Food Pantry is so grateful for all of its volunteers. Special thanks to Rodney and Debbie James for their bi-monthly regular food donations. Thiers and other truly help the hungry.

Here is the upcoming schedule:

October

4 –Phyllis Augustus, Joe Roberts,

- Hedy Taylor, Judy Tribble
- 11– Doris Brown, Gloria Daves, Linda Lewis, Sheri Roberts
- 18– Darlene Carter, Kathy Chapman, Helen Davies, Yvonne Rohlfing
- 25– Trish Franklin, Dottie Rust, Jill Schaneberg, Judy Torres

OPERATION BACK 2 SCHOOL FOLLOW UP

Letter received from 6 Stones:

Dear Friend of 6 Stones,

Thank you for your donation to 6 Stones' Operation Back 2 School 2013. Because of your generous gift, we are able to assist 5,600 student in HEB ISD and bring their families hope as they begin this new school year. Students who participated in the event received a backpack and the school supplies they needed to be able to start the year off right. Also, their parents were given information about how to receive assistance throughout the year, as well as opportunities for extracurricular activates for their students. At Operation Back 2 School, we had over 650 volunteers serve and over 60 different social service agencies and over 20 churches be a part of the social service fair. 6 Stones is successful because of our community partnerships— simply put, we could not do this without you!

Continue to check our website, www.6stones.org, for updates about what is coming up this fall. We have many more opportunities for you to get involved, and w look forward to serving with you again soon.

Blessings,

Scott Sheppard- 6 Stones, Executive Director
Kameryn L'Ecuyer-6 Stones,

WELCOME DESK

The Welcome Desk needs your help. We do a great job of welcoming people on Sunday mornings to worship because of our volunteers that greet, direct and get information from our visitors. But we could use some more help. If you are able to greet people as they enter the church, please let Dave or Linda Lewis know.

CHURCH COUNCIL UPDATE

Bi-monthly your Church Council meets to review the ministries of the church, and dream of what is coming next - to fill our mission to make disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Each committee of the church reviews their ministries for the month. It is always exciting to see the many happenings of the church.

Here are some highlights. Sundays are busy days with Crafters, Youth, Disciple Bible Study, and two Financial Peace Classes. We are not hosting the Alpha Program this fall but will launch it again in the spring. Mike Springer has put together improvements in the financial policies and procedures, including the budgeting processes for 2014. As our church grows, improved processes are needed to reflect the increased programming and facility needs.

It was exciting to hear our relationship with South Eules Elementary School is increasing with some mentoring opportunities that are now available.

Church Council meetings are open to the whole church to hear our updates and are currently held the third Mondays of the month at 7:00 p.m.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Lord's Acre Annual Golf Tournament at Meadowbrook Golf Course in Ft Worth is scheduled for Saturday, October 19 starting at 8:00 a.m. Cost is $70, which includes 18 holes, cart, goodies and lunch. Please register with the church office.

If you are not a golfer, but are still willing to support this venture, we also offer hole sponsorships for $100. Many groups have sponsored in years past. From Sunday School classes to graduates of specific schools, individuals to companies, it is always fun to see the different sponsors throughout the course. Sponsors will have their name posted on a sign at each hole.

While there are only 18 holes, no one ever said there can't be more than one sponsor per hole.

Should you have questions please see Kent Polenz, Rob McMillon, or Lee Gilby.

PRESCHOOL AND KINDERGARTEN

Angel News:

Eules First United Methodist Church's Kindergarten class took a trip to McCormick Preserve on Johnny Appleseed Day to visit the sight of a seed from an original tree that was planted by Johnny Appleseed. They went to see what could be called his "grandbaby tree." They will be going to Green Meadows soon to culminate their farm unit. There they will have an opportunity to see farm animals and pick a pumpkin.

The Preschoolers are continuing to explore shapes and colors. The week of September 30th the color is orange. Students will be taught a program called Zoo-Phonics to learn their letters. It is a great program that uses motion, sound and an animal character to help children learn letters faster, and prepare them to read.

FROM THE PASTOR

I have been thinking quite a bit about our future lately. As your pastor, I feel called to help us as a congregation go forward in the right direction(s) into the future.

So you can imagine that when I read this in one of Bishop Lowry's recent blogs, I had to stop and ponder it a bit.

My essential claim is that we need to move back to the past in order to reclaim a faithful future as a Methodist movement for the greater Christian movement and the Church Universal. The witness of the original Wesleyan movement offers a vibrant guide today in its full orthodox enthusiasm. God through Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit is calling us to a new future anchored in that past.

He is right, and I'm not just saying that because he is my Bishop.

On of the catch phrases one learns in seminary is "already but not yet." This phrase captures the reality of our life as Christians; that the Kingdom of God is already along with us (scriptures), though obviously among not fully realized.

You might say we live between the times: between Jesus' first and second coming.

Or between the past and the future. The present has always served us this way, and I suppose it always will.

Some worry that the past is being forgotten. Others want to leave it all behind. Yet we are all here together, between the past and the future, in between times, already and not yet.

Our challenge is to identify what of the past is most valuable to our following Jesus today and into the future.

I think one of the best ways for us to do that is to share our stories. Each time I tell my story or you tell yours, we have the opportunity to consider which parts of our story are most significant, and which we might leave off with the next telling. The more we tell and the more we listen, the better we can connect our stories and our story together with God's story.

If we carefully share our stories in the context of God's story, I am convinced we prepare ourselves for God to lead us into the future.

Our challenge is to identify what of the past is most valuable to our following Jesus today and into the future.

THANKSGIVING BASKETS

The Food Pantry volunteers are getting ready to give out the annual Thanksgiving Bags to our clients in the H.E.B. area. We are asking our congregation to take this list to the grocery store and fill at least one bag or maybe two. We anticipate that we will need 200 bags. We will begin giving out the bags on November 1, 2013. That will be a full month of giving out bags. Our clients can only come once a month and we want all those that need a bag to have a bag. Please have your donation to the church by Sunday, October 20, 2013. We will add a canned ham to each bag.

Items for bags:

- 1 - small box tea bags
- 1 - 2 lb. bag sugar
- 1 - cake mix
- 1 - frosting mix
- 2 - cans evaporated milk
- 2 - cans whole kernel corn
- 2 - cans green beans
- 2 - cans fruit cocktail
- 2 - cans chicken broth
- 2 - boxes chicken stuffing mix

FALL FLOWER SALE

Fall is a great time for mums, kale and much more. Flowers are not just for spring. Sign ups for ordering Fall Flowers begin September 29, with delivery scheduled for Saturday, October 19. Special thanks to Bonnie Rieman for coordinating this ordering with Ruibals Greenhouses in Dallas.

Flats are $20, and individual kale are $6. Please see Dave Lewis for your fall flower needs.

ONES LONG ROAD

Doug Graham:

What is my long and winding path? I have been listening to Steve's sermons and hearing him ask to describe our long and winding path. I initially didn't plan on sitting down and thinking about what path I had taken to becoming a Christian, a Methodist, and a member of First United Methodist, Eules. I knew, subconsciously, that effort would probably bring up a lot of questions that needed answers. Sitting at home watching Heidi, my wife, prepare for Methodist Women's Sunday, I realized I needed the effort, questions, answers. So here I sit trying to put this down on paper. It's actually on a monitor. You couldn't read my handwriting.

I was raised in a church attending family. We attended when there was a holiday or when my father decided it was something that we needed because of something he did. He could state many religious verses and we had the ceremonial bookshelf Bible. He didn't practice what he preached. I felt that Christians were very hypocritical; I didn't see a reason for being active in a church, until junior high school where great deal of my classmates attended a Baptist church— more specifically the junior high girls attended church. It then began to make sense. I did just write hypocritical didn't I? That worked for a while until my adventures pulled me into other directions than the church. In short summary, I dropped out of high school and ended up joining the Navy. I will let you fill in the gap.

After a few years in the Navy, I married my first wife and had my first child. My wife was Baptist and it all seemed to make sense. I was still in the Navy and became very active in a Baptist Church while assigned to shore duty in Dayton, OH. I studied the Bible and actually took on teaching the youth. I have always found that you learn more from teaching than studying. This lasted until the Navy transferred me to New Orleans, LA to attend college while on active duty. While in New Orleans my wife and I drifted apart which resulted in a divorce. Here comes hypocritical again. The Navy transferred me to Oxford, MS to complete my Engineering degree. While at Ole Miss I enjoyed being single, a college student, and went to First Baptist Church Oxford. In addition to getting my degree I met Heidi.

I transferred to San Diego, CA to begin my career as a Surface Warfare officer. I didn't attend church during my time in San Diego. Heidi had transferred colleges to UC Irvine. As an officer, there are formal dinners that we had to attend and not having a date was frowned upon. So I contacted Heidi to go to the formal with me. It is the least I could do since she followed me to CA. She will deny it but it is obvious to the casual observer isn't it?

We were married a few years later and religion wasn't really anything that we discussed together. Yes the Baptist boy meets Jewish girl not exactly a family destined to be in a church. We had a great deal of problems finding a Chaplain that would agree to marry us due to our religious beliefs. I went to the San Diego Base chapel and asked to speak with who they reported to in order to get the matter resolved for our wedding. So the San Diego Naval Station Base Chaplain, Capt. Moran, performed the ceremony on July 9, 1988 (I actually got the year right 1st time in over 25 years). The only other religious activity that I participated with Heidi was Passover at her family's home. It truly amazed me the detail that they spent on the Passover ceremony and the biblical discipline that I would witness from her and her family. I do remember when I asked for her hand in marriage telling her father I couldn't denounce Christ and become Jewish. I found out then that he had to do that for her Mother's hand and he wouldn't expect me to do it I just had to love her.

We continued to be without religion and with only an occasional unnoticed drive by from God. Right after our son, Jordan, was born our country suffered the attack on 9/11. I immediately told Heidi I had to get back into church. I didn't know what church and didn't expect Heidi to follow me. She said that she wanted to if I needed it. I ruled out the Baptist faith as an option. I felt that her being Jewish would be a distraction. She found FUMC Eules due that a Pumpkin patch and Halloween carnival. I knew it definitely wasn't what I had experienced as a Baptist and agreed to we should try out the church. I wanted to attend Sunday school. I didn't want to go every now and then to a service and check it off as getting back to God. So since September 2001, we have been part of the church and working towards strengthening our relationship with God. Jordan has been baptized as a Christian. As a family we have had several life changing events since joining the Church. There is no doubt in my mind that God has been there for us to get through each challenge.

TITHING

Tithing: A Benchmark for Giving

By David S. Bell

Part 1:

Some congregations set the expectation of giving at the traditional tithing mark (10% of one’s income;) while other congregations rarely, if ever, deal with this predominantly Old Testament concept. In reality, giving in mainline Protestant congregations is far less than 10% of one’s income. According to various studies, average giving by church members is less than 2.5% of one’s annual income. First fruits giving requires the theological premise that our possessions and assets ultimately belong to God. All that we have in life is a gift from God! Faith-filled, first fruits giving is our opportunity to return to God a small portion of God’s abundant blessing in our lives. Moreover, these blessings are not limited to financial assets or possessions. Most of us can examine our own lives and find numerous blessings, perhaps even some astounding miracles. As Christians, we are called to give to God “what is right, not what is left,” as the popular quote from a church marquis states. God calls us to offer our “first fruits,” not the “leftovers.” Tithing becomes a benchmark for the modern day Christian. Since few regular worship attendees have achieved the giving mark of tithing, how might pastors and church leaders encourage congregants to strive to tithe? If pastors and church leaders promote proportionate giving, worshippers will be called to examine their current giving levels and will be challenged to move closer to the tithe. Why is tithing a benchmark rather than a goal? In his sermon, The Use of Money, John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist movement, preached about “earning all you can, saving all you can, and giving all you can.” For Wesley, the tithe was not the ultimate goal of the Christian – it was the standard, the normative mark, the common denominator. Jesus’ teaching and example urge us to examine our choices with all of our possessions and assets, not just 10% of them. Frankly, Jesus asked his disciples for 100% commitment.

“earning all you can, saving all you can, and giving all you can.”

FINANCE UPDATE

Your Finance Team meets monthly to review the cash flow of our church, and strategize about funding options and encouragement of our generous culture.

We had an aggressive budget in 2013 of $596,000, with many expanding ministries. Our monthly offerings dip each

July—this year about half our average month. Then in the fall, we catch up and show strong giving going into the holiday season. Special thanks to Thomas Hawthorne and Audrey and Ron Coats for sharing their stories of their financial relationship with God. We are all blessed with so much and sharing that abundance with your church is exciting. Your finance team is working on our 2014 budget currently and we will be sharing that with the congregation in November. Thank you for your ongoing generosity.

WAYS TO GIVE

Don’t forget we have a mobile donation/payment page. So if you have ever forgotten you checkbook and need to contribute, just use your phone! You can also set up regular giving. Simply scan with your QR code reader.
